

INTERNATIONAL WOMENS DAY

This year, 2016 we celebrate the 106th International Women's Day. The celebration has a centenary to its credit and is still vibrant. There is a symbolic connection that spans the continents. People around the globe join in unity to mark this day. We at SASMIRA's Institute of Management Studies decided to celebrate it with 'guests' none other than the three ladies from different walks of life..

Ø Ms. Meghana Dalal, a Chartered Accountant by profession and Non-executive Director of Savita Oil Technologies Limited gave her own journey/ career path as example and personal anecdotes to explain in simple language the meaning of eating the humble pie in corporate...

Ø Ms. Kanupriya Singh of 'My Kind of Job' and The Happy Life Welfare Society- NGO (the share my dabba campaign) will always be remembered for sharing the importance of thinking before you speak about giving 'opinions' and of course her share my dabba- unique concept started in Mumbai...

Ø A special thanks to Ms. Merlin Dsouza- music composer & director, pianist and performer-of, 'SOUL YATRA', 'INDIVA' and Sonic Branding for sharing her music journey with us and was magical with her music rendition.

Our institute donated cash to Ms. Sabrina Cooper of Child World Foundation -an NGO for education of children in Mumbai and Lonavla.

Cheers to all the lovely ladies who made a difference to our lives on 08th March, 2016 with their mesmerizing presence and inspirational talks.
